CONTENTS

Overview

This comprehensive, annotated resource list is designed to assist in selecting resources for the senior high English as a Second Language (ESL) program.

Organization by Level

The authorized resources are listed for the five levels of the senior high ESL program under two main headings: Series and Individual Resources. Series and Individual Resources are then listed alphabetically within each section. Resources that are suitable for more than one level appear for each of the applicable levels, thus providing a comprehensive listing of materials for each level.

Additional Information

A listing of suppliers, including regional resource and urban media centres, and a title/series index are included as additional information.

Updates

Updates to this list will be provided periodically. Information on new resource authorizations is included in several places: the Authorized Resources Database, available through the Alberta Education web site at <http://ednet.edc.gov.ab.ca> under Students and Learning, Learning and Teaching Resources; the Learning Resources Distributing Centre (LRDC) Buyers Guide and LRDC web site at <http://www.lrdc.edc.gov.ab.ca>; and in Connection, published three times a year and available at the Alberta Education web site.

Pricing Information

August 1998 LRDC prices are included in this document. For confirmation of prices, GST and shipping charges, please check the LRDC Buyers Guide; contact the LRDC at 780–427–2767, inside Alberta dial 310–0000 to be connected toll free, fax 780–422–9750, or visit their web site; or contact the supplier. LRDC prices may change without notice, if warranted by exceptional circumstances.

Series

Senior high English as a Second Language series include multiple resources under a series title. In this annotated list, the series are listed alphabetically.

Individual Resources

These resources stand alone as basic, authorized teaching and support resources, and are listed alphabetically for each level.

AUTHORIZATION OF RESOURCES

Alberta Education selects, acquires, develops, produces, translates and authorizes the best possible instructional materials for the implementation of approved programs of study. Resources authorized by the Minister meet Alberta Education's criteria for acceptability, including:

- curriculum fit and instructional design
- tolerance and understanding
- developmental appropriateness
- physical properties
- cost
- Canadian content.

Resource Authorization Categories

Basic learning resources are those student learning resources authorized by Alberta Education as the most appropriate for addressing the majority of outcomes of the course(s) or substantial components of the course(s); or the most appropriate for meeting general outcomes across two or more grades, subject areas or programs as outlined in provincial programs of study. Basic learning resources may include any resource format, such as print, computer software, manipulatives or videocassette.

Authorized Teaching resources are those teaching resources produced externally to Alberta Education; e.g., by publishers, that have been reviewed by Alberta Education, found to meet the criteria of review, and identified as the best available resources to support the implementation of programs of study and courses and to support the attainment of the goals of education. Teaching resources produced as service documents by Alberta Education, such as diagnostic programs and monographs, are authorized by definition.

Support learning resources are those student learning resources authorized by Alberta Education to assist in addressing some of the outcomes of the course(s) or components of the course(s); or to assist in meeting the outcomes across two or more grade levels, subject areas or programs as outlined in the provincial programs of study.

Note:

Section 44(2)(a.1) of the School Act, Statutes of Alberta 1988, Chapter S–3.1, as amended, indicates that a school board may "...develop or acquire instructional materials for use in programs or in schools." Selection of instructional resources is not restricted to those authorized by Alberta Education.

SENIOR HIGH ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE

Many students who come to Canada from other countries speak languages other than English and, upon entering Alberta schools, have varying levels of English language proficiency. These students are an important and integral part of our schools and communities. English as a Second Language (ESL) students are those students whose level of English language proficiency precludes them from full participation in the learning experiences provided in Alberta schools without additional support in English language development.

In order to benefit fully from schooling in Alberta, ESL students should have:

- enriched and supportive instructional programs that appropriately develop English language proficiency
- access to the full range of curriculum and services available to all students in Alberta schools.

The goal of the senior high English as a Second Language program is to provide ESL students with planned, systematic instruction and support that will enable them to speak the English language fluently, further their education, and become productive and contributing members of Albertan and Canadian society.

The senior high ESL program is organized into five levels. Level 1 is intended for students who are acquiring literacy for the first time or who have had significant gaps in previous schooling. Level 2 is intended for students who have little or no experience with English prior to entering Alberta schools. Level 3 is intended for students who have some competency in English and need a program focused specifically on language development for academic learning. Level 4 is intended for students who are able to succeed in most high school courses with consistent support in English language development for academic learning. Level 5 students receive assistance with subject-specific language development in a variety of ways, such as in learning centres, from peer coaching and with teacher assistance.

Throughout the five levels, students are expected to grow in their ability to demonstrate the following general outcomes.

Students will use spoken and written English to:

- gather, interpret and communicate information
- establish and maintain relationships
- make decisions, solve problems, and plan and carry out projects
- explore, respond to and extend ideas and experiences.

The general outcomes represent different, but interrelated, dimensions for learning in the senior high ESL program. Although the general outcomes are stated separately, they are not mutually exclusive; but rather are meant to be developed in conjunction with one another. Specific outcomes state what students are expected to know and be able to do by the end of each level.

ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE RESOURCES
LEVEL 1 SERIES

CANADIAN CONCEPTS

Author(s): Berish, L.; Thibaudeau, S.
Publisher/Distributor: Prentice Hall Inc./Prentice Hall Canada Inc.

ESL Levels 1, 2, 3

The Canadian Concepts series is a six-book series designed for students learning English in Canada. Survival topics and cultural information, based on Canadian themes, are addressed with increasing complexity. Such themes as the environment, animal migration, sports, technology, fashion, finance and population challenge students conceptually and linguistically. Resources in this series are communicative in approach, and, as a result, students are engaged in listening, reading, writing, discussing and community contact tasks. The materials are oriented to an adult audience. They might be most useful for students but can be adapted for all. Previewing is recommended.

IN ACTION: LANGUAGE TEACHING METHODOLOGY SERIES

Publisher/Distributor: Prentice Hall International/Prentice Hall Canada Inc.

ESL Levels 1, 2, 3, 4, 5

The activities in these books are based on recent work in discourse analysis and pragmatics—descriptions of everyday conversation. The activities show how people open and close conversations, take turns at talking, interrupt, and reformulate what others say. The tasks suggest a range of ways in which learners can work together on conversational rules and structure, conversational strategies, functions and meaning in conversation, and social and cultural contexts. Indexes are provided categorizing activities according to teaching purpose and language proficiency level. In addition, there are useful lists of conversational phrases; e.g., conversation and then returning to the topic.

This classic of English literature has been rewritten to be accessible to learners of English. It is suitable for young adults with intermediate/advanced language proficiency. Comprehension questions are included, and illustrations assist in comprehension. This novel is an abridged version of the original. It can be used to introduce senior high school ESL students to literary traditions. The novel meets the tolerance and understanding criteria when historical context and genre are considered. However, teachers are reminded that Little Women portrays women in a passive role.

Order No. 316952 Est. Price $35.80

This is a resource for teachers who are interested in learning the basics of ESL teaching. It is the third edition of a standard methodology reference book. The preface outlines the approach of this resource: This book "... is designed to give you a picture of both the slipperiness of second language acquisition and the systematic storehouse of reliable knowledge that is now available to us ... you are led on a quest: a search for your own personal, integrated understanding of how people learn—and sometimes fail to learn—a second language."

Sticky Situations: Decision Making / Coping Strategies for Teenagers and Young Adults

Order No. 287872 Est. Price $15.65

This resource is designed to help teenage and young adult ESL learners make practical decisions when confronted with difficult situations. It enables students to practise envisioning and articulating options, comparing alternatives and discussing coping strategies for everyday problems that they may encounter. These skills are often not emphasized in regular course work and frequently are not valued or recognized at home. Students become familiar with alternative courses of action that enable them to bridge cultural and linguistic gaps.

This beginning level ESL reader offers 21 intriguing international folk tales from a variety of cultures, each written at two levels of difficulty. Two versions of the same story are presented in each chapter; the first one uses less complex structure and more limited vocabulary, and the second one is more idiomatic. This dual-level format allows readers to grasp the story line and characters in the simpler version so they can be more attentive to sentence structures and vocabulary in the second. Illustrations for each story help beginners visualize the story's sequence of events. A wide variety of exercises help readers build vocabulary; improve comprehension; review material; and relate stories, either verbally or in writing, from their own countries.

CANADIAN CONCEPTS

Author(s): Berish, L.; Thibaudeau, S.
Publisher/Distributor: Prentice Hall Inc./Prentice Hall Canada Inc.

ESL Levels 1, 2, 3

The Canadian Concepts series is a six-book series designed for students learning English in Canada. Survival topics and cultural information, based on Canadian themes, are addressed with increasing complexity. Such themes as the environment, animal migration, sports, technology, fashion, finance and population challenge students conceptually and linguistically. Resources in this series are communicative in approach, and, as a result, students are engaged in listening, reading, writing, discussing and community contact tasks. The materials are oriented to an adult audience. They might be most useful for students but can be adapted for all. Previewing is recommended.

IN ACTION: LANGUAGE TEACHING METHODOLOGY SERIES

Publisher/Distributor: Prentice Hall International/Prentice Hall Canada Inc.

ESL Levels 1, 2, 3, 4, 5

The activities in these books are based on recent work in discourse analysis and pragmatics—descriptions of everyday conversation The activities show how people open and close conversations, take turns at talking, interrupt, and reformulate what others say. The tasks suggest a range of ways in which learners can work together on conversational rules and structure, conversational strategies, functions and meaning in conversation, and social and cultural contexts. Indexes are provided categorizing activities according to teaching purpose and language proficiency level. In addition, there are useful lists of conversational phrases; e.g , conversation and then returning to the topic.

This classic of English literature has been rewritten to be accessible to learners of English. It is suitable for young adults with intermediate/advanced language proficiency. Comprehension questions are included, and illustrations assist in comprehension. This novel is an abridged version of the original. It can be used to introduce senior high school ESL students to English literary traditions. The novel meets tolerance and understanding criteria when historical context and genre are considered. However, teachers are reminded that Bill Sykes, in Oliver Twist, is Nancy's lover and that he eventually murders her.

This resource is designed to help teenage and young adult ESL learners make practical decisions when confronted with difficult situations. It enables students to practise envisioning and articulating options, comparing alternatives and discussing coping strategies for everyday problems that they may encounter. These skills are often not emphasized in regular course work and frequently are not valued or recognized at home. Students become familiar with alternative courses of action that enable them to bridge cultural and linguistic gaps.

This beginning level ESL reader offers 21 intriguing international folk tales from a variety of cultures, each written at two levels of difficulty. Two versions of the same story are presented in each chapter; the first one uses less complex structure and more limited vocabulary, and the second one is more idiomatic. This dual-level format allows readers to grasp the story line and characters in the simpler version so they can be more attentive to sentence structures and vocabulary in the second. Illustrations for each story help beginners visualize the story's sequence of events. A wide variety of exercises help readers build vocabulary; improve comprehension; review material; and relate stories, either verbally or in writing, from their own countries.

CANADIAN CONCEPTS

Author(s): Berish, L.; Thibaudeau, S.
Publisher/Distributor: Prentice Hall Inc./Prentice Hall Canada Inc.

ESL Levels 1, 2, 3

The Canadian Concepts series is a six-book series designed for students learning English in Canada. Survival topics and cultural information, based on Canadian themes, are addressed with increasing complexity. Such themes as the environment, animal migration, sports, technology, fashion, finance and population challenge students conceptually and linguistically. Resources in this series are communicative in approach, and, as a result, students are engaged in listening, reading, writing, discussing and community contact tasks. The materials are oriented to an adult audience. They might be most useful for students but can be adapted for all. Previewing is recommended.

IN ACTION: LANGUAGE TEACHING METHODOLOGY SERIES

Publisher/Distributor: Prentice Hall International/Prentice Hall Canada Inc.

ESL Levels 1, 2, 3, 4, 5

The activities in these books are based on recent work in discourse analysis and pragmatics—descriptions of everyday conversation. The activities show how people open and close conversations, take turns at talking, interrupt, and reformulate what others say. The tasks suggest a range of ways in which learners can work together on conversational rules and structure, conversational strategies, functions and meaning in conversation, and social and cultural contexts. Indexes are provided categorizing activities according to teaching purpose and language proficiency level. In addition, there are useful lists of conversational phrases; e g , conversation and then returning to the topic.

This resource provides an integrated-skills reading text for high-intermediate/advanced ESL students. With emphasis on reading skills, it provides integral parts of listening, speaking and writing in each lesson. It covers a variety of genres, including short stories, novellas, poems and short excerpts from novels. In an experiential approach, rather than literary, students are asked to use their own experience as a basis for understanding the works, and make their cross-cultural comparisons naturally. An audiocassette accompanies the text.

Jigsaw is designed for use with an adolescent or adult class working in groups of four, with the reading and exercise texts written at four different reading levels within the Grade 3 to Grade 7 range. There are individual and group activities, as well as a cooperative skills sheet, for each unit, with ample provision for student evaluation. Jigsaw reading and activity binders are innovative Canadian materials, created from the students own world experience, and designed for interactive learning. Working together in small, cooperative groups on problem-solving tasks, students rapidly and enjoyably develop language proficiency and group learning skills. Designed for adolescent and adult learners in multi-level classes who need to develop their reading and discussion skills for application across the curriculum, they offer students a wealth of opportunities to develop both specific reading skills and learning strategies, which can then be applied to academic tasks.

IN ACTION: LANGUAGE TEACHING METHODOLOGY SERIES

Publisher/Distributor: Prentice Hall International/Prentice Hall Canada Inc.

ESL Levels 1, 2, 3, 4, 5

The activities in these books are based on recent work in discourse analysis and pragmatics—descriptions of everyday conversation. The activities show how people open and close conversations, take turns at talking, interrupt, and reformulate what others say. The tasks suggest a range of ways in which learners can work together on conversational rules and structure, conversational strategies, functions and meaning in conversation, and social and cultural contexts. Indexes are provided categorizing activities according to teaching purpose and language proficiency level. In addition, there are useful lists of conversational phrases; e.g., conversation and then returning to the topic.

This resource provides an integrated-skills reading text for high-intermediate/advanced ESL students. With emphasis on reading skills, it provides integral parts of listening, speaking and writing in each lesson. It covers a variety of genres, including short stories, novellas, poems and short excerpts from novels. In an experiential approach, rather than literary, students are asked to use their own experience as a basis for understanding the works, and make their cross-cultural comparisons naturally. An audiocassette accompanies the text.

Order No. 289133 Est. Price $29.20

Drawing from an international literature of short stories, excerpts from novels, and poetry, this text provides intermediate/advanced ESL students with reading materials that provide a rich, engaging, direct experience in their new language, inspires their creativity, and also serve as models for students own writing. It exposes students to various genres and styles of writing from around the world in authentic English. This resource approaches literature from an 'exploration of meaning' perspective rather than formal criticism, and thus bridges language, life and culture for individuals who may be new to English, but who have a great deal of life experience. It includes highly engaging, graded selections that dignify individual cultures, provide points of personal identification, use language well, and reflect life honestly and perceptively. It focuses on the themes of identity, memories, relationships, changes and working, and includes provocative topics. A variety of exercises emphasize reading for meaning; for identifying opportunities for discussion and writing; for widening horizons and vocabulary; for learning writing strategies; and for expressing themselves about current, controversial issues.

This classic of English literature has been rewritten to be accessible to learners of English. It is suitable for young adults with intermediate/advanced language proficiency. Comprehension questions are included, and illustrations assist in comprehension. This novel is an abridged version of the original. It can be used to introduce senior high school ESL students to literary traditions. It meets tolerance and understanding criteria when historical context and genre and considered. However, teachers are reminded that these are horror stories by Edgar Allan Poe and that they should review the content. For example, in The Black Cat a cat is hung and its eyes are gouged out. A wife is murdered.

ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE RESOURCES
LEVEL 5 SERIES

IN ACTION: LANGUAGE TEACHING METHODOLOGY SERIES

Publisher/Distributor: Prentice Hall International/Prentice Hall Canada Inc.

ESL Levels 1, 2, 3, 4, 5

The activities in these books are based on recent work in discourse analysis and pragmatics—descriptions of everyday conversation. The activities show how people open and close conversations, take turns at talking, interrupt, and reformulate what others say. The tasks suggest a range of ways in which learners can work together on conversational rules and structure, conversational strategies, functions and meaning in conversation, and social and cultural contexts. Indexes are provided categorizing activities according to teaching purpose and language proficiency level. In addition, there are useful lists of conversational phrases; e.g., conversation and then returning to the topic.

Drawing from an international literature of short stories, excerpts from novels, and poetry, this text provides intermediate/advanced ESL students with reading materials that provide a rich, engaging, direct experience in their new language, inspires their creativity, and also serve as models for students own writing. It exposes students to various genres and styles of writing from around the world in authentic English. This resource approaches literature from an 'exploration of meaning' perspective rather than formal criticism, and thus bridges language, life and culture for individuals who may be new to English, but who have a great deal of life experience. It includes highly engaging, graded selections that dignify individual cultures, provide points of personal identification, use language well, and reflect life honestly and perceptively. It focuses on the themes of identity, memories, relationships, changes and working, and includes provocative topics. A variety of exercises emphasize reading for meaning; for identifying opportunities for discussion and writing; for widening horizons and vocabulary; for learning writing strategies; and for expressing themselves about current, controversial issues.

This is a resource for teachers who are interested in learning the basics of ESL teaching. It is the third edition of a standard methodology reference book. The preface outlines the approach of this resource: This book "... is designed to give you a picture of both the slipperiness of second language acquisition and the systematic storehouse of reliable knowledge that is now available to us ... you are led on a quest: a search for your own personal, integrated understanding of how people learn—and sometimes fail to learn—a second language."

This resource provides, in one book, a true-life integration of functions, oral and written language text. The aim of this book is primarily to develop students' confidence in the use of specific functions of language, such as expressing an opinion and giving instructions. Students learn to read for inference, application, analysis and are induced to relate cognitive levels to the process of second language acquisition.

This is a methodology book for prospective and new ESL teachers. No previous background in linguistics or second language acquisition is required. The resource is appropriate for beginning/novice teachers and stresses the need for basing classroom teaching/learning activities on a set of sound principles about learning second languages. It outlines 12 overarching principles of second language learning. The chapters address group work, strategy training, listening, oral communication, reading, writing, grammar and testing.
